

Transform How You Hire, Retain, and Grow Your Global Workforce With the First AI Suite Built for Talent

The world of work has changed dramatically in just a few years. Now every organization must consider remote and hybrid work arrangements. Many struggle to retain their talent, while others can't find enough people to hire. The skills that employers need are changing faster than ever, while employees demand more control over their own career decisions. Talent executives and leaders must put workforce issues at the top of their agenda.

These leaders turn to the Eightfold Talent Intelligence Platform™ to navigate this new world. Powered by patented deep learning AI and the world's largest talent data set, Eightfold puts skills first to unleash the full potential of all talent – employees, candidates, contractors, and citizens.

The Talent Intelligence Platform allows employees and managers alike to make decisions based on individual and team goals and potential – and without bias. With a suite of purpose-built modules designed for global requirements, Eightfold gives organizations the tools they need for the workforce challenges they face now and will face in the years ahead.
